

This architectural floor plan depicts a large, symmetrical building with a central corridor system. The plan is highly organized, with rooms labeled with numbers and letters. The building has a long, narrow footprint with a central axis of symmetry. The plan includes various rooms, including offices, meeting rooms, and administrative spaces. The drawing is a black and white line drawing with fine lines and shading to indicate room boundaries and furniture placement.